I have a cute cat. My mother bought it for me as my birthday gift last year. The cat's body is black but its eyes are yellow. It can run very fast so it's good at catching mice. It's also very lazy .The sun is already in the sky, but it is still sleeping in its home.

When I stay at home, it always follows me. When I do my homework, it always lies near my desk quietly .When I eat food, it usually carries its bowl to my room, and wants me to eat and share with it. We always have a good time.

In my heart, it's the best cat.

My School Adventures and Weekend Plans

Last week at school,there were full of fun and interesting events! One of the funniest moments happened during our science class. We were doing an experiment with baking soda and vinegar. My friend Tom added too much vinegar, and suddenly, the mixture exploded everywhere! It was like a mini volcano! Everyone laughed, including our teacher, Mrs. Lee. We all had to clean up the mess, but it was totally worth it for the giggles we shared.

After school, I always look forward to the weekends. This weekend, I have some exciting plans! On Saturday, I am going to the park with my friends. We plan to ride our bikes and play soccer. I can't wait to show off my new bike! On Sunday, I will help my mom bake cookies. She is an amazing baker, and I love the smell of fresh cookies filling our house. We will make chocolate chip cookies, my favorite!

Speaking of family, my dad works as an engineer. He designs bridges and buildings. Sometimes, he brings home cool blueprints to show me. My mom is a teacher, just like Mrs. Lee! She teaches kindergarten, and she always has funny stories about her little students. I love hearing about their adventures, too.

My family is very supportive, and they always encourage me to do my best at school. I feel lucky to have them by my side. I can't wait to share my school stories with them this weekend!

In conclusion, school is full of funny moments, and weekends are a great time to relax and spend time with family and friends. I hope every week is as exciting as the last!

I have a good friend,Wang Ming. He and I have some similar points. Both of us are really hard working. We both have short black hair. And we both like sports and reading.

However, there are some differences between us. He is taller and more outgoing than me. And he sings and dances better than I do. He likes watching movies very much. But I like using the internet and traveling.

In fact, I don't really care if my friends are the same as me or different. My favorite saying is," A friend reaches for your hand and touches your heart."

Every weekend is special for me, I woke up on Saturday morning with the sunshine through my window. I finished my homework first, so I can have more activity time.

After lunch, I visited the local library with my dad, there were many people in it, everyone was quite.

I borrowed a few interesting books and I found myself lost in the stories.

In the afternoon, I had Drum class. I've been learning to play it for three years, and I already passed level five. When I feel down, I like to knock the drum to release pressure.

In the evening, I sat down with my family to watch a movie. We laughed and talked about the plot. Spending time with my family was always a highlight of my weekends. That was all my weekend and I was ready to face the next week.

My Favourite Season

My favourite season is autumn. When autumn arrives, the whole world seems to be painted in warm and rich colors. The leaves on the trees turn into various shades of red, orange, and yellow, creating a beautiful and somewhat melancholic landscape.

The weather in autumn is usually mild and comfortable. It's not as sweltering as summer or as bitterly cold as winter. The gentle breeze caresses the face, bringing a sense of relaxation. During this season, you can also enjoy the delicious fruits that are harvested. Apples, pears, and grapes are all ripe and full of flavor.

Moreover, autumn is a great time for outdoor activities like hiking. Walking on the mountain paths covered with fallen leaves, you can breathe in the fresh and crisp air and appreciate the beauty of nature. In a word, autumn has a unique charm that attracts me deeply every year.
